

To The Family

Thank You

The week of the 1st of March is week five of the third quarter and we have mid-terms this week giving us five more weeks left for the quarter. One of the harder classes that I have is Exodus. There is a lot of memory work in this class, namely: the 10 plagues, 40 chapters heading, 10 commandments, all the hardening of pharaoh's heart passages which there is 19 verses, 5 memory verses and a six-page paper to write. 1 & 2 Thessalonians and Philemon mostly is just doing a detailed outline of all the chapters, memory work, and reading the three books each week for the quarter. Proverbs is more in taking notes in class to turn in at the end of the quarter. Reading, memory work, and writing a six-page paper. All the assignments take time to do, but in the long run anything is possible when having a focus mind in serving the Lord.

The work for the "Your Everyday Christian Way" for the children Bible videos is going great. We have almost gotten to the point to where we are ahead in making the videos. Ethan, my brother, who is also the Dean of Media of the school who oversees this work. On the last recording we did for the week one of the days we had to redo it three times, for we kept laughing on how he was singing the word Proverb. I had to go behind the TV and not look at him just so we could get the video done. For those who want to have a Bible video for your children to watch, you can go to either You Tube or Facebook to watch the videos. Type in the search bar "Your Everyday Christian" and pick a video. Monday to Friday there is a new video each day with a different Bible question to go along with the lesson and a memory work for the whole week. Pray for this work that we can teach the younger generation about the importance of serving God.

Again, thank you for the support you have given me, for without it I would not be able to do much in going out and teaching the Gospel. Though this was short I will write more to you when the time comes. Pray for me as I go to school that I will be able to use what I learn to teach gospel to the people of this world.
